Dear Diary,

Today is my 6 month anniversary with Alex and I hope everything goes as planned. We are meeting for the best dinner of our life.

Jan 27

Dear Diary,

These couple of days have been really hard and I don't know what to do...

Recently, Alex got into a car crash causing him to be on life support. The car hit him from the side.

I can't believe that he is alive ...

The doctors say that it was a miracle for him to be here in the first place. He is in a coma and the doctors don't know how much time he has left.

They don't see him waking up anytime soon.

The hard part about this is that Alex has no family to be around him. His mother died and he never found out who his father was. He has no siblings or aunts and uncles to be around for support. I am all alone in this situation and have no one to help me with all hard decisions.

Me and Alex have been dating for almost 6 months and ever since we met we have been inseparable. I am all that he has.

It's really hard to see the one that you love hurt.

I hope that he wakes up soon but I have to accept that there's a chance that he won't make it...

Dear Diary,

The doctors tell me that he should be taken off life support, which would cause him to die. They say that this is the best option for him but I can't let him go just like that. I still have hope that he will make it through this. Meeting guys is hard for me.

I haven't met anyone like Alex before and I can't believe that after this long, he might leave me. We were planning on getting married in the future or having kids of our own someday, since he wants to have a big family someday.

His life is in my hands and I don't know what to do. I wish someone could help me. What should I do?

Dear Diary,

Yesterday was the most wonderful day in my life!

Just when I was about to lose hope, Alex woke up from the coma!!

I was crying next to him, holding his hand, and I felt it move. It's going to take some time for him to get back to normal mentally and socially, but I couldn't be happier. I am so happy that I decided not to take him life support because then he wouldn't be with me right now. I'll let you know what happens next time I write.

Dear Diary,

After therapy Alex and I are going to Honolulu.

I hope our flight is safe and we can rest from everything that happened... and I think I'm pregnant!!!!!!

*I can't believe it!!!
A while ago I thought that I would never be able to have children.
I AM THE HAPPIEST GIRL IN THE WORLD!*

Aug 20

Dear Diary,

After returning from Honolulu I decided to talk it over with Alex. We were very happy and relaxed so it seemed like a good opportunity to have this conversation. Alex said that he heard me all the time when I had a problem. He truly wanted to help me but he didn't know how. I find all that happened inconceivable. I can't even imagine what he felt...

I'm glad this is finally over and our life got back to normal.

I don't even want to think what would have happened if I had agreed to take him off life support...

I've decided to close this chapter our life and not to get back to it ever again.

I haven't told Alex about my pregnancy, I hope he'll be happy about it.

Tomorrow I have gynaecologist appointment and I hope everything is alright.

After all this I'm glad I'm pregnant.

Aug 21

Dear Diary,

Finally I can say- I'M PREGNANT!

I'm so excited!

The doctor told me that everything is fine with me and a baby.

Now I can tell Alex about everything!!!

Aug 22

Dear Diary,

This was one of the best days in my life. Seeing Alex so joyful makes me happy even more. Probably I was a little scared and curious about his reaction, but Alex has shown me that he is really ready to be a dad. Now I know that he would be the best daddy in the world.

However, after my big news Alex told me that he had also something important for me to tell. My first thought was that he is sick and has some undetected injury after the accident. At once I felt so sad and began to cry. Alex stopped talking and stared at me with such an odd face.

Finally he asked me to calm down. He asked me a strange question: "Did you find a ring in my suitcase in Honolulu?" A ring - what is he talking about? My strange face must have been an answer for him because after a moment of silence Alex said to himself "probably not".

After a minute he took a beautiful ring with diamond out of his pocket and he asked me "Will you marry me?"

My jaw dropped. I started to cry even more and Alex looked at me with much stranger face than before.

Finally I blurted out "YES".

He told me he wanted to ask me that question in Honolulu but he thought that I would have said "NO" - made him change his plans. That is the reason our trip was such a disaster. But thinking about it now - it was worth to have such a spoiled trip to have now such a beautiful day.

Dear Diary,

Today we set our wedding date (1st October)

OMG this is really soon but we wanted to finalize it before I'll be looking like a walking marshmallow.

We agreed with our wedding planner we'll organize a small party : Alex, me and our closest friends.

I'm so happy!

I'm going to look for my dreamed-of wedding dress with my friend Sam in an hour!

Sep 2

Dear Diary,

Alex told me that he would like to be with me when I find my perfect wedding dress. However, I heard that this could bring bad luck. So I decided to go for a search only with my mum and Sam. We visited so many shops that after two hours' search I felt that I would never find my perfect dress. When we entered the last shop with wedding dresses in my town I immediately knew that there I can find my dress. The shop assistant told me that she had a perfect dress with long veil for me. When she showed me a dress I was speechless. That was my ideal dress! The most beautiful dress I have seen. Fortunately they have my size! I'm so lucky. Tomorrow we will have a meeting with our wedding planner and shortly afterwards I will have gynaecologist appointment. I think everything is OK so I'm not stressed.

Dear Diary,

Today's events were so unexpected. Alex's dad came back to city and showed up in Alex's house. Alex is devastated. Throughout his whole life he has thought that his dad does not want him. And today he told him that he was absent in his life because he hasn't even known that he got a son. Tom (Alex's dad) only one week earlier found a letter from Alex's mum in his old family house. In this letter his mum was writing about Alex. And now he wants to make up for these lost years. He wanted to be in Alex's life. However, I do not know if Alex is ready to have him in his life. And I do not know how to help Alex... He started to be so sad...

Sep 20

Dear Diary,

Alex has better and better contact with his father. Sometimes they behave as if they have known each other for years. Today Alex told his father about his accident. Tom was crying... That was so sad... I think he really cares about Alex... And Alex has started to open himself... And he has started to ask questions about his family... He asks about his grandparents, cousins, aunts and uncles. It turns out that his grandmother died of breast cancer 5 years ago and his grandfather has serious disease. Because of his father illness Tom decided to come back home and take care of his father. Tom told Alex about his sister, Nicole. She has got a husband and four children (Kate, Michael, Spencer and Jessica). At that moment Alex wanted to meet his grandad and his aunt.

Sep 24

Dear Diary,

Today Tom's family came to our house. We decided to invite them to our wedding. I think that it is very important for Alex. He is so happy and his relationship with his family is getting stronger and stronger. I hope everything will be fine and they will want to be part of our BIG DAY.

Sep 25

Dear Diary,

Our meeting with Alex's family was wonderful. We are very glad that we have an opportunity to get to know them better. In my opinion they are such valuable people. And they agreed to come to our wedding!!! Alex's dad had tears in his eyes. Finally we agreed all the details with Julia - so we must start counting days to our wedding day. I am so delighted... and I can't wait!!!

Oct 1

Dear Diary,

Okay, let's start the best day of my life! WISH ME LUCK!
