

20th of March

Dear diary,

I got you yesterday for my birthday from my aunt. You are my first diary. I am going to tell you all my secrets. Now you are one of my best friends. I think that you should know something about me so my name is Mia. I am twelve years old. My hobby is singing and I am a little bit interested in painting and drawing. I go to catholic elementary school. I live in Miami in quite big house with my parents and my brother Frankie. Our house is very close to my friend's houses. My best friend lives next to me. Her name is Kim. I love reading books. Now I am reading something about wizards and magic.

21st of March

Dear diary,

I have just got back from school. I am very happy because my Music teacher said that I have nice voice. She said that I will sing at school ceremony. My dream is to be famous singer and I think it will come true. I am going to tell my mum everything. She will be proud of me. At 4 o'clock I have dinner. After that I am going to do my homework and meet Kim. We will play a lot of funny games.

15th of April

Dear diary,

Today I had singing competition. I won and I got medal and some sweets. My music teacher was very happy and proud of me. Everyone liked my performance. My mum recorded me while I was singing and she shared it in the Internet. Now all my family and friends can see this.

30th of April

Dear diary,

Today was a bad day. Yesterday my mum shared short video in the Internet. In this video, I am singing my favourite song. Today during the lunch break everyone except my friends was laughing at me and one stupid boy said that I cannot sing and I only want to be famous and rich. I was really embarrassed. It was not nice. I was very sad and I was crying. My mum said that he said it because he is jealous but it still hurts. I think that if he were me he wouldn't want someone to act the way he did.

13th of May

Dear diary,

a few minutes ago, my mum has already waken up me. I asked her why she did it because today is Sunday and she said that our video from 29th April has twenty thousand views and many lovely comments. We are so happy. I cannot believe. Now I am going to call all my best friends and tell them about it. I think that they will be happy like me.

14th of May

Dear diary,

it was awesome day. I got good marks in school. Then I invited Kim and we were doing our homework together. My mum always get back from work at 4 pm but today she got back at 5 pm. She was talking with someone on her phone long time. When she finished I asked her why she got back later and why she was talking about fifty minutes. She said that she was talking with music producer. She got back later because he phoned her and invited for lunch. They were talking about me and my future with music. I will meet this music producer and his team and then we will go to California and record my very first song. I am so excited.

28th of May

Dear diary,

I am in plane now. Before I was a bit nervous because it is my first time in plane but now I think that it is very cool. Flying is amazing experience. I am going to California to write and record my new song with famous artist. I do not know with who yet. I am happy and nervous both. I am excited that I can meet new friends and famous people but I'm a little scared of haters. What if I will do something wrong or what if they will say that I have horrible voice but however I am very proud of myself.

9th of June

Dear diary,

Yesterday I recorded my first song. I recorded it in duet with my favourite singer. He said that my voice is very beautiful and cute. We are real friends now. Producers are sharing our song in the Internet next Thursday. I cannot wait. After share I am going back home but before I am going to visit Los Angeles with my mum.

21st of July

Dear diary,

I am getting ready for fly to LA because I will record new song. It will be kind of lively and modern song. My last song is very popular. My friends really like it. It is so cool. I am a bit famous now. It is adorable feeling. Last week I got letter from director and he wrote that he want to give me role in his new movie. I think that I will act it because I like movies and theatre plays. It will be good for my career. This movie will be record in China and Japan. It is so far. I have never been abroad. I am going to have fun there.

27th of August

Dear diary,

You will not believe me where I am right now. So I am in China. This country is EXTREMALLY cool!!! I will never leave this beautiful place. But I want to tell you that I am here because I am playing in movie. I love acting. When you are acting you can be someone else. I like myself but sometime it is great to be other person than I am every day.

11th of January

Dear diary,

I cannot express how I am feeling now. I have five hundred thousand likes on my last song. It is amazing. So many people like my song. Its words, melody and my voice. I am going to read a lot of comments which my fans wrote to me. I cannot wait for my first concert which will be when I will have a few more songs. I love that I can give nice music to people in every country.

At 5 PM I am going to mall with Kim and her big sister. Kim and I saw beautiful red T-shirt from our favourite shop. We wanted to buy one for me and one for Kim last time but we did not have enough money so we will buy them this time. I think that after shopping we will go to restaurant to eat some fast food.

15th of April

Dear diary,

I am so surprised. Last year my mum posted first video on Internet. It is like 'WOOOOW'. I cannot believe how fast time elapse. Then only my family, friends and my music teacher knew how I can sing and now everyone on the entire world can listen to my own songs. It is adorable!

29th of April

Dear diary,

Now I am in plane with my mum. We are going to Los Angeles to record my last song for my first album. I am so excited. It will be pretty cool. When my album will be done I will start my USA tour. I will have a lot of gigs. I would love my fans to come there. In California I will probably get a new puppy. I heard when my mum was talking with someone and she said that she is going to give me that puppy when we will arrive in Los Angeles. If I get puppy, it will be the best thing in my life.

31st of July

Dear diary,

Tomorrow I am flying to New York because I am starting my tour there. I am a bit nervous but I am really happy too. It is incredibly big opportunity for my career. I can be more famous than I am now. I will get a lot of money and help poor children and their families. I wish that my fans will enjoy my performances.

2nd of August

Dear diary,

I know that it is very late but I have just ended my first performance of this tour. It was adorable and great. My fans was very cute and lovely. They was singing with me and when I was singing my the most emotional song they turned on lights in their phones. It was amazing feeling. On meet and greet there was so many people. I can't remember every single one but one of these I remember told me extremely cute and sad story in one.

It was a fourteen-year-old girl. Her name is Mackenzie and she lives in New York City. We took a photo together and then I told that she has pretty T-shirt because I have the same. Then we were talking a few minutes and she told me that when she read in magazine that I will perform in her city she really wanted to go there because she loves my music but her family is quite poor so she started saving money. She was cleaning her neighbours' houses and cooking for them. When she saved enough money she told her parents that she have money for performance her favourite artist. After that her parents listened to one of my songs and they liked it. They said that I am not like every little pop star in the USA. They was very proud of her that she can make her dream comes true. I am very proud of her too. I think that she is my biggest fan on the entire world and I think that I will hang out with her in the future because she is such a great person.

4th of August

Dear diary,

It is last time when I am writing something in you. Yes, it is last page but not least. You should know that you are my best friend EVER. Only you know my secrets and you know how my life turned upside down last year. I spend amazing journey with you. I am so thankful that you were always with me. When I was sad, when I was happy, when I was spending awesome time with Kim, ALWAYS.

Love you and goodbye!
