Dear Diary!

The sound of alarm clock woke me up. Another day seemed to start very well. A day free of school. First of all I ate breakfast and took a shower. When I was taking a shower, the telephone rang. It was Ash. I agreed to go by the lake. Ash had a great idea. It was sunny. We organised a picnic. Then we went to swim. The water was warm, so we had great fun. Suddenly, a boy came to us. His name was Tom. He was very handsome. We became friends. I wonder what will come from our friendship.

I'm tired so I'm going to bed. Good night my lovely diary.
